ficials of the Town of St. Albert attended this impressive ceremony. Representatives of the Army, Navy, Airforce, and R.C.M.P. were standing on guard around the Cenotaph.

Council Meeting held November 8, 1965
Good News from Councillor deBruijn - Councillor deBruijn informed Council that now 42 houses will be under construction in the Sturgeon Heights area before the end of November. The houses will be built by S & S Homes. During the discussion, Councillor deBruijn proposed that a small change in the terms of the contract between the Town and S & S Homes in regards to the payments of the land, should be made. Councillor Donais was of the opinion that if S & S Homes would receive only these special privileges, in his eyes it would be a kind of discriminatory privilege and that he therefore could not vote in favor of this proposal. Councillor deBruijn said that S & S Homes were the only contractors who were willing to start building houses in this area although all other builders were informed and had the same opportunity as S & S Homes. He stated that if S & S Homes had not started we would have a clear deficit in this area. After quite a lengthy discussion, Council passed Mr.

deBruijn's motion with Councillor Donais against it.

Business Tax Mill Rate Up to 32.5 Mills Council decided that the Business Tax Mill Rate will go from 31 mills to 32.5 mills for 1965. Councillor deBruijn said that the businesses in St. Albert are generally too small that they cannot afford any increase in business taxes. Councillor Donais said that he did not think that the St. Albert businessmen would complain as our population has increased and therefore more business has

REMEMBRANCE DAY 1965

A Message to the People of St. Albert

By the Rev. L.J. Musto, Minister United Church, St. Albert

On the eleventh day of the eleventh month, and at the eleventh hour, we stop our labors for two minutes silence to think of those who made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars and other conflicts. Even though the years swiftly pass by, the memory is still very green for many who lost loved ones, and for those who recall the sturdy youth of comrades with whom they served. We honor their memory for what they were, and for what they did. I believe it is the challenge of each one of us to do all we can through the help of Almighty God, to maintain peace in our world, or we shall be guilty of human betrayal; even more, of the greatest of all sins, namely, the waste of sacrifice. The world we are called to live and labor in, is neither altogether light, nor is it altogether dark. It is a twilight world. Twilight may mean one of two things: the coming of dawn, or the coming of night. The world of tomorrow therefore, may be the best and brightest our earth has ever known, or it may be a world of deep and tragic darkness in which civilization itself will all but perish. We wonder what we can do as individuals to determine which way our twilight world is going to move. I believe the place where we must begin in moving out from this bewildering twilight into the dawn of a bright new day is precisely where we must all begin: in our homes, the church, the school, the social circle, and the community. Here, in our everyday relationships, are the raw materials of either a united or a divided world. Fears, prejudices, jealousies, misunderstandings, lack of appreciation - these are the sources of the poisons out of which even global wars are brewed. Where we live, where we work, where we worship, let us begin by building bridges of good will and understanding there. I am certain that if we truly appreciate and understand the real meaning of the sacrifice of those of bye-gone years, we will not let their sacrifice be made in vain.

been realized. The motion for increase in Business Tax Mill Rate was passed with Councillor deBruijn opposed.

Recreation Program Supervisor - Mrs. Lena Holgersen was appointed in a permanent part-time job as Program Supervisor in the Recreation Department, for $1.80 per hour.

Civil Defense - Councillor Roy Gibbon was appointed by Council as the official representative for the Town of St. Albert on the Civic Defense Committee.

Councillor Parkes, representative for Council at the Recreation Board informed Council that some representatives of the Recreation Board will meet with the Editor of the Gazette to talk over this problem.

Different citizens attended this interesting question period and it is hoped that in future Council Meetings many citizens of our Town will attend these meetings.

LIBRARY

A letter was received from Mr. Morton Coburn, Director of Libraries in Edmonton, sent to Mayor Richard Fowler in regards to possible help from the Edmonton Public Library to the St. Albert Library. The letter read as follows:

"In September, Mr. Blake P. Pratt, architect, visited my office in the course of his study of library buildings. During our talk, I suggested that the St. Albert Library Board might wish to consider an approach in the creation of a library service similar to that adopted by the former Library Board of the Town of Jasper Place.

At the time of amalgamation the population of Jasper Place was about 35,000 residents. Each branch library in Edmonton serves an equal number of persons. Because of this factor, and the proximity of the two communities, the Jasper Place Library Board adopted a program whereby, by contract, it made use of our professional and technical facilities. The Edmonton Public Library established the basic book collection for the Jasper Place Library. Thereafter, it was agreed that the Edmonton Public Library would select and process additional books for the Jasper Place Library. The staff also received initial training in the Edmonton system.

I sat with the Jasper Place Library Board at its monthly meetings in an advisory capacity. The Jasper Place Library Board established library policy and financed the library operation. The Library Board adopted many of the policies and procedures of the Edmonton Public Library. This reduced their operating costs and permitted residents of both communities to make use of all existing facilities and gave Jasper Place a professionally organized library equal to the facilities in Edmonton and still under its own jurisdiction.

This is but a brief outline of the approach that was taken, but it might serve as a basis for your investigation of a long-term plan to creating a library service for St. Albert. The final architectural design and eventual cost of your proposed library building will be related to the program you adopt - an independent library operation, or one that contracts for the professional and technical services of a larger system. Your Library Board may wish to explore the program outlined above with the past Chairman of the Jasper Place Library Board, Mr. Herbert Shacker, 15206 - 44 Avenue, or with the town's former mayor Mr. Kenneth Newman, now an Edmonton alderman. I am sure that each would be prepared to provide you with a considered opinion of the program that was adopted."

LOVE IS THE TEACHER

By Florence Lefebvre

Synopsis: Mrs. Lefebvre recalls and expresses in her own words the day she was privileged to spend in one of the classrooms of the Aphasic School for minimal brain-damaged children which has its headquarters in the Strathearn United Church, South Edmonton. Mrs. Unger, Founder, Mrs. McHugh have a brain-damaged child of their own, while Mrs. Cotro and her husband are temporary foster parents to little Aris.

Good posture is required, and thoughtfully checked by patient Teacher and Volunteers.

Mrs. Unger entered and assisted as pupils were given specially suited play assignments which would provide the correct movement for each child's co-ordination problem. Mr. Unger personally made the sturdy well-finished "toys".

Mrs. Cotro explained the particular "game" she selected for Howie and Kevin which would exercise the arm responding the least to their needs. I was allowed to sit with them as they went through the different "work" phases. When finished, they dutifully brought them back before they received another.

I watched transfixed as these dedicated women worked and played with their charges. Words of encouragement softly spoken as pupils and teachers, oblivious of everyone and everything, used all their capacities and will to accomplish each small duty. Two sets of hands used as one to perform one task, the end result of which could be a victory for the child, satisfaction for the teacher. No time was lost in despair or unending praise, but throughout the room I felt the surge, the hope and faith, the thrill of unexpected success and excited corroboration by fellow-workers. I was a stranger, I had come to see, and I saw teaching at its best.

By this time everything had been cleared away, and all were told to sit quietly. Mrs. Cotro summoned each child to line up for "cracker-time" which involved the placing of hands on hips and walking to the door and remaining in this position until two separate lines were formed. They left the classroom and returned with their lunches which they obediently gave the teacher who removed the crackers, gave them to the child who said "please" and "thank you" receiving the response "you are welcome". I saw no pushing or unruliness as they proceeded to their places and ate.

Mrs. Cotro distributed paper and pencil, placing them in front of each child, explaining aloud to the class and Mrs. Unger, Mrs. Ochman and Mrs. Portlock that she wished them to make a circle which they would transform into a man's face by adding a feature as it was called to them. Gentle hands again traced outlines assisting small unsure ones. Close to the teacher's desk was a partially closed in space which was used for visual and perception training. Two pupils at a time were seated before a large mirror set upright on a table. Mrs. Cotro, Howie and Lori-Ann on either side, guided them through many interesting lessons. She began by relating the same lesson they had just learned on paper about the face, to their own. By placing their fingers on ears, nose, eyes and mouth as they looked at their reflections, they co-ordinated their actions, and sounded words difficult to pronounce. Listening intently to her instructions, watching her smilingly beautiful face in the mirror, they responded to her careful coaching with complete trust.

During this time, the remainder of the class worked with assistance on individual projects.

The announcement that it was time to line up for gym was welcomed by everyone as it was a definite treat as well as a test of gross motor skills, providing spacial and directional co-ordination for the participant. A gentle but vigorous work-out was enjoyed under the careful direction of the Physical Education Teacher (a volunteer) and one of the Teachers.

At noon lunch was served after Grace was recited. Appetites were good after a busy morning, and chewing was emphasized as a particularly important exercise. A rest period followed - children relaxed, heads on the table and eyes closed. During the morning they had worked and played well, demonstrating consideration for one another.

in Grade One of the Aphasic School in South Edmonton during their lessons.

At 1:15 a bell was sharply sounded by Linda who sat with Arie. The roll call, answered "present", repeated for some, was the beginning of the afternoon session.

Puzzle boards and cut-outs either made by Mr. Cotre or purchased were given each child. Patti fitted cardboard cut-outs in correct slots and Lori enjoyed a colored jig-saw puzzle. Jill was assisted by Lori-Ann while Mrs. Cotre helped little Arie.

More writing followed, often painstakingly redone, the slow child guided until each portion is complete. Teachers, Director and Volunteers conferred during work sessions, openly discussed and assessed the classes abilities.

This last period was the most concentrated and the last of the day. The children were not pressed beyond their capacity, nor hurried, but they sensed what was expected of them, and accepted the program changes and teachings as students, showing understanding beyond their years.

That they will succeed in advancing step by step is felt without doubt in the classroom. What happens after they leave is in the hands of devoted parents and the understanding of you and I.

A Sunday School meeting for all teachers and officers will be held Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. in the lower church hall. The Hi-C young people meet this Sunday at 7:30 p.m. On Sunday, November 21, a discussion period with parents is being planned on the topic "What do you, as parents, expect of your teenage son or daughter, and where do you feel they fall short of your expectations?" There is urgent need for assistant leaders for Hi-C. Anyone interested should contact R. Myrthue at 599-7834.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Congregational Visitation was carried on Sunday afternoon. All visitors reported a warm welcome and although results are not complete as yet, the response was very gratifying and it would appear that the resources will be available to reach our 1966 vision.

Next Sunday evening the Presbyterian of Edmonton and District will hold a city-wide rally at Rupert Street Presbyterian Church when they will hear Rev. Walter MacLean, a missionary on furlough from Nigeria. Mr. MacLean is a dynamic young man and has a vital challenge to our day.

Our Sunday School has increased in enrollment since last spring. It was found necessary to apply for increased facilities to accommodate our children. The Junior Choir has been reactivated under Maureen Adlond and will begin regular practices shortly.

The Burning Bush met Monday with Mrs. W. Lowrie. A new slate of officers will be chosen at the next meeting.

The Congregational dinner held Friday night under the convensorship of Eileen Gibbon was our first effort. Everyone that attended had a good time of fellowship and felt that we should have more get togethers of this kind. Our thanks to Eileen Gibbon, Barbara McBroon and the ladies of our Burning Bush for their hard work.

The Presbyterians were guests of Westmount Presbyterians last Sunday. Seven of our teens attended and all had a good time. Plans are being made to entertain the Presbyterians from Westmount at a later date.

The minister will preach the sermon at the Induction of Rev. Ralph MacDonald in Rupert Street Church. The service will be held at 8 p.m. on Friday.

WHO KNOWS THE DELINQUENTS ?

During the last ten days an organized gang of brutal destructive persons, exiling filthy language in dressing rooms, houses and cars, with a very hard removable paint, are operating in our Town, especially in the Grandin Park area. The ice skating dressing room in Grandin Park was last week repainted four times by the Parks and Recreation Department because the words painted on this dressing room were beyond description. Who are these vandals who cause these very unpleasant troubles? It is necessary to know them not at first for the punishment that they deserve but for a solid protection against this kind of vandalism in the future. The gang must have some kind of sinister authority, because youngsters in our Town who know them are afraid to tell their names! There are perhaps citizens in our Town who could give some information which could lead to find the offenders. Citizens in our Town have the right and the duty to help and to protect their fellow citizens in any possible way they can. Our Town has a by-law 19/65 which provides for conviction in these matters to a penalty of maximum $100 exclusive of costs. This by-law should be enforced for this case, giving the offender a good lesson which probably will help them to realize that we do not want this kind of bad business in our Town. Phone the R.C.M.P. in St. Albert (599-7721) as soon as you have traced one of them!

AN OLD COMPLAINT

During the last Council Meeting, Councillor Ray Gibbon informed Council that once again the dogs are running at large in our Town. It is even getting a plague for different householders where sometimes five or six dogs having a carnival in their front yard! Mr. Gibbon suggest that the S.P.C.A. should check more seriously in the evenings which is the pleasant moment that some dog owners let their dogs run all over town, especially since the winter has started! Why do we tease our neighbors in this matter? Why don't we do everything possible for our neighbors to increase their enjoyment by living in our Town? These apparent little things are creating so many unnecessary, unpleasant hard feelings that it is really worthwhile to solve these problems as soon as possible. Keep your dogs under control as a responsible citizen and make your neighbors happy.

congregation. Those who are interested in the work of our church are cordially invited to attend our first organizational meeting this Sunday, November 14, at 8:00 p.m. at the Pastor's residence: 41 Mission Avenue.

We are looking forward to having our own place of worship with adequate room for our growing Sunday School. As our church grows we will extend our services to meet the spiritual needs of the different age groups. At present we serve interested families with our Sunday School for the ages of 3 - 14 years, with a confirmation class for grades 8 and 9 and with our worship services. Those who are interested in our Confirmation Class or in other services should, please, call the pastor at his residence 599-7844.

Councillor Parkes Attends Banff Workshop

Councillor Parkes presented to Council a report regarding the Banff Workshop on October 29, 30, and 31 which he attended as an official delegate of our Council. The report reads as follows:

"In the past, education has been toward fitting citizens for the business of making a living through work. It was considered good to work and that play was sinful. Efforts to provide everyone with jobs led to fewer working hours, more idle time, longer vacations etc., which the average citizen could normally fill with available sporting, recreational and general leisure pursuits. In the very foreseeable future, due to Automation, Cybernation and increasing population, there will not be enough jobs for everyone, with the result that leisure time will become a real problem. It may become necessary to pay people not to work.

Whatever the outcome, long leisure hours are assured, and in order to offset the psychological effects of idleness, a program to educate people to accept and use this time is an absolute must.

The Banff workshop dealt with the problems of introducing Education for Leisure to various levels of government and the attached resolutions resulted.

In summary, it was most emphatically agreed by all delegates that a good recreation director is the answer to a continuing citizen's recreational program, and essential to the future development of the Education for Leisure. From discussion with other delegates, it would appear we are most fortunate in having available the services of our present Recreation Director."

The following resolutions were adopted during this interesting conference:

1. Resolved that the Government develop a ministry of Human Resources rather than one of youth in order to provide an extended service in Recreation and Cultural Development for all citizens of Alberta.
2. Resolved that channels of communication be established between the new ministry and the Department of Education and other related Government agencies in order to ensure coordination in providing relevant services to the people of Alberta. MOVED by R. Parkes - St. Albert and SECONDED by Mr. J. Kehoe of St. Albert.
3. Resolved that workshop be established for: a) people at large b) recreation board members c) school committee, for the purposes of encouraging them to make a more effective contribution in the area of their responsibilities in meeting leisure needs.
4. Resolved that an active program of recruitment be established by the Recreation and Cultural Development Branch and local boards to attract the most suitable candidates for training in recreation leadership.
5. Resolved that the Recreation and Cultural Development Branch in conjunction with the Department of Municipal Affairs investigate the feasibility of recreation boards becoming a tax requisition authority similar to that granted school boards, hospital boards, etc.
6. Resolved that increased financial aid for training be provided by the Government and by local authorities to assist in the provision of qualified directors of recreation.
7. Resolved that the Cultural Development Act be amended to provide for the election of recreation board members.
8. Resolved that a study be made over the next year regarding the feasibility of provincially appointed supervisors of recreation operating similar to a superintendent of schools.
9. Resolved that school boards be asked to provide courses in leadership training at the local level for all people interested in all phases of recreation.

STAMPS

STAMP POSTAGE STAMPS TO 5 PM A.M.
The Honourable René Tremblay, Postmaster General, announced today that the stamp program for 1966 has been revised in order to allow for the addition of two new stamps to the philatelic schedule. The Commonwealth Parliamentary Association will be honoured on a stamp to be released in early September, which will mark the opening of its 12th General Conference. The Commonwealth Parliamentary Association was founded in 1921 in order to bring about closer understand-and cooperation between those engaged in Parliamentary Government in the Commonwealth. Canada is to be the host country of this distinguished gathering. On June 5th, the floral emblem series will reach its culmination with the issue of a stamp featuring the Canadian coat of arms, and a maple leaf. The date of issue was chosen to coincide as closely as possible with Dominion Day, July 1st. This stamp will be similar in size and format to the floral emblem and armorial bearing stamps of each of the ten provinces and the Northern Territories and will complete the series begun in 1964.
